

2ND QUARTER JITTERS

As everyone may know the 1st quarter has come to an end and we are making our way into the 2nd quarter. Teachers have been asked a series of questions based on this and how they are feeling

QUESTIONS

1. Are you ready for the new quarter?
2. Do you have any fun ideas for the quarter?
3. Is there anything you're not excited for?
4. Do you have any fun plans for the break?
5. When are you going to start preparing for mid-terms

MR. ROBINSON

Mr Robinson is very excited for the new quarter and all it has to offer. When asked if he had any fun ideas planned for the quarter he says "Thanksgiving, Christmas and fall sports". He states he is "positive like a proton" so there is nothing that he isn't looking forward to. Mr Robinson has already started preparing his students for mid-terms back in August.

MS. PATTERSON

Ms. Patterson is ready for a fresh start going into this next quarter. She is excited to start the competitive cheer season. She is not excited because she knows this quarter is going to go by quick. Over the break she plans to take a trip up to Virginia and show her daughter snow.

MS. NEWCOMB

Ms. Newcomb is excited for the new quarter because she says she has been teaching for a long time. She can't wait for Vet 1 to start working in groups and build their terminology charts and gallery walks. She is not happy that we are stuck in school up until Christmas Eve this year.

MR. CHANNELS

Mr Channels is ready for the new quarter because he feels that the first quarter went by fast due to losing days over hurricane Ian. He is excited to start doing group games and his DECA field trip. He is also going to be starting community service during the second quarter. He understands that as we get further into the year students start to get more busy with school, work and hanging out with friends. He knows the second quarter is going to be hard due to this.
